

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH

Edinburgh Award (Library and University Collections Volunteers)

This award is given to students whom the University has recognised for actively working to maximise their impact and excel as a volunteer in the Library and University Collections department. These students have, through a variety of roles, provided invaluable support throughout this department helping bring the institution's collections to the University community and wider public, developing knowledge and ability in a specialist area.

In successfully completing the Edinburgh Award, these students will have been helped to:

- increase their self-awareness;
- make the most of their existing strengths and build new skills/abilities against clear development goals;
- understand the processes involved in having a planned positive impact and strategically working to excel, enabling them to have impact and make a difference whatever situation they are in; and
- look not only at their volunteering, but also to capitalise on their experiences elsewhere to inform and enhance their role as a volunteer, and vice versa.
